K. C- DRAṢṬĀ’s Journey in the Post COVID World (2020-21)

Centre For Development Research, Sustainability and Technical Advancement (C-DRAṢṬĀ) received the ‘STE Humanitarian Award for NGOs’ from Save the Environment (STE) which is a Society for Research Awareness and Social Development. Dr. Rajlakshmi Mallik, President and Head, Research and Training, Centre For Development Research, Sustainability and Technical Advancement (C-DRAṢṬĀ), Kolkata, received this award on behalf of Team C-DRAṢṬĀ.

C-DRAṢṬĀ, being a non-profit development policy research organization with the Mission to Empower based on Observation and Reasoning. C-DRAṢṬĀ is committed to any effort at ensuring social sustainability and sustainable living and as part of its commitment to combat the COVID-19 virus pandemic it has been engaged in generating public awareness about the government advisory about practices and measures for arresting the transmission of COVID-19 virus infection.

Hence following surveys related to COVID-19 were conducted:

- COVID-19 Perception and Practice Survey which was about assessing the perception and practice in the context of coronavirus pandemic and government health advisory for combating the same and highlights issues pertaining to awareness, perception and practice in the context of COVID-19 pandemic.
- COVID-19 Prevention Survey which was related to alternative preventive practices and measures for arresting the transmission of COVID-19 virus infection.
- COVID-19 Tourism Perception Survey that was mainly about designing strategies for reorientation of tourism to the post COVID-19 world.
